Jacek Moskalewicz – Work Package leader

Lisbon . 13th/14th October . 2016

Objectives and tasks

Wp4 had two objectives

- Providing a baseline for comparative assessment and monitoring of alcohol epidemiology, including drinking levels and patterns and alcohol related harms across the EU
- Strengthening capacity in comparative alcohol survey methodology and increasing interest in using common methodology in the future

Two tasks to achieve the objectives were adopted

- Task 1 a common alcohol survey methodology to be elaborated and implemented using as blueprint the survey instrument developed and tested for cross-cultural applicability in EUfunded project smart (rarha seas).
- Task 2 data from surveys carried out in 2008-2012 to be pooled and recoded for comparative assessment (rarha harmes)

Expected long-term outcomes:

- Alcohol policy based on sound and comparative assessment at national and European levels
- EEA-wide monitoring system based on standardized survey instrument in operation

Summary

 Preliminary descriptive report offering solid foundations for further analyses

The objectives have already been met to the large extent

 Baseline for comparative assessment of alcohol epidemiology across europe is available

 Capacity in comparative alcohol surveys is strenghtened (close to 100 scientists and researchers from over 20 european countries has had opportunity to learn from each other and exchange experiences in comparative approaches)

RARHA - FINAL CONFERENCE SHARING THE RESULTS

What benefits do you see in adopting a standardised european alcohol survey as a tool for systematic monitoring alcohol policies and their impact at national and eu levels?

What institutional framework could facilitate its sustainability?

What may hinder its suistainable implementation?
